

WILL WED WEDNESDAY

Rev. J. M. Huston, D. D., to be Married.

MISS HOLLOWAY THE BRIDE

The Talented Pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church and a Leading Lady of Bridgeport Will Join Hearts and Fortunes This Week-They Will Live in the Parsonage After a Bridal Tour.

On Wednesday of this week Rev. J. M. Huston, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will be married to Miss Lida B. Holloway, at the home of the bride in Bridgeport, Ohio.

There have been rumors of the joyous occasion for some time, and the News Review gives it today from a source the authenticity of which cannot be doubted. The wedding ceremony will be performed by Rev. C. B. Hennathorn assisted by Rev. S. H. Stewart, presiding elder, and immediately afterward the happy pair will leave for the East, where they will spend a few days in Boston, a short trip up the Hudson, and visit many important points of interest. Upon their return to this city they will go to housekeeping at the parsonage on Jackson street.

Miss Holloway is one of the best known ladies of Bridgeport, having been a life long member of the Methodist church and being prominently connected with the work. She is a lady of womanly attainments, and will make a valuable addition to the First church here. Doctor Huston has become so well known since his residence in this city that the general public, without regard to denominational ideas, will hear with delight of the step he is about to take. As a Christian gentleman, ever ready to help the wayward and give in charity, he has made for himself a place in East Liverpool, and there are hundreds of friends to join with the News Review in wishing him all the happiness which can come to himself and bride.

As Doctor Huston will be absent from the city, Doctor Marsh, president of Mt. Union college, will occupy the pulpit in his church on the 25th. Other arrangements will be made if the gentleman is absent another Sunday.

THE Y. M. C. A. ROOMS.

Young Men Have the Assurance of a Warm Welcome.

Here is a safe, cosy and comfortable headquarters for young men, and one which they will do well to visit and patronize. For the small sum of $5 per year you can have the full benefit of most excellent bathing facilities and access to the gymnasium, with all its health-giving and beneficial exercises. If you cannot afford to expend $5 for such advantages during the year, you will be accorded a warm welcome to the rooms free of cost, where you will be given the privilege of a cosy seat in the reading-room, and where you can enjoy perusing the columns of the leading magazines and newspapers of the day. Aside from the bathing and gymnasium privileges, the sum of $5 per annum also embraces free hand and mechanical drawing and arithmetic, and additional educational advantages will be given just as soon as finances will permit thereof. By all means, young men, and men of riper years, pay a visit to the Young Men's Christian association rooms during your hours of leisure. Come to the 4 o'clock Sunday meetings.

COMPACT IS COMPLETE.

The Pottery Manufacturers Have Decided.

There seems little doubt that the compact of crockery manufacturers recently formed in Pittsburg, is complete, and is the strongest ever formed in America.

Little information can be obtained in this city, and those who know most about the matter will say nothing. The News Review learns from a reliable source that not only all the firms in this city are represented, but every one of them in the country has signed the articles. Officers were not elected at the first meeting, but it is said that they were elected at a meeting held in the east last week and attended by a number of manufacturers from this city. The above was denied this morning at one of the principal offices in the city, the statement being made that they would certainly know something of it.

MERCER RAN AMUCK.

A West End Boy Fighting Drunk Saturday Evening.

Robert Mercer, a boy, aged 18 years, got drunk in the West End, Saturday night, and made Rome howl for an hour. Going to the home of Mrs. Malone, he raised such a racket that Maggie Malone seized a baseball bat, and in a forcible manner reminded him that he was not behaving as well as polite society demanded. Enraged, the boy ran from the house, but grasping a stick broke the windows. Word was sent to the police, and Officer Supple brought in the hilarious youngster. His father stood for his fine, and he was released. Mercer could not be induced to tell where he secured the liquor.

GUILTY OF LARCENY.

Two Boys Says So In Court Today.

Special to the News Review.

New Lisbon, Nov. 12—Patrick Fox and William McCue, indicted for burglary, plead guilty to larceny this afternoon.

The Hostetter House in this place was sold today by Sheriff Lodge for $11,800 to A. G. Smith, of Lisbon.

The motion filed by the defense in the case of Bertha Ramsey against J. C. Norris, prominent people of near this place, was heard and over-ruled by Judge Billingsley today.

In the case of Thomas Francis against the village of Sallineville the motion was over-ruled.

The will of the late George Failer, of Unity township, was admitted to probate this morning.

No will being left in the estate of Frederick Banky, late of Knox township, letters of administration were given by the court to H. W. Hoffman, with $9,000 bond.

In the estate of the late Serepta Fryer, a citation was issued against S. J. and Nellie Fryer to appear before the court on Nov. 9, to take or renounce the administration.

On application W. G. Bentley was appointed guardian for Jessie E. Lease, daughter of the late Benjamin D. Lease, of Salem. He gave $4,500 bond.

A number of accounts set for hearing today were settled as follows:

First and final account of Samuel N. McCullough, executor of William G. Murdock's estate, balance of $1,329.27 ordered distributed. First and final account of Eli Thomas, executor of David Thomas' estate, balance of $83 due executor.

MATTHEWS CAUGHT.

Chief Gill Gets the Witness in Bridgeport.

By methods known to the police department Chief Gill succeeded in locating Matthews, the man wanted as an important witness in the McFadden case, and it will be heard this evening. Chief Gill got his man in Bridgeport, and will bring him here on the afternoon train. John McFadden is charged with selling liquor on Sunday, and Matthews is the main evidence of the prosecution.

At the Opera House.

Rev. H. H. Moore, of Wellsville, delivered a Prohibition address at the Grand on Sunday afternoon. He scored the voters in both the old parties, and asserted that no Christian voter should cast his ballot for other than a Prohibition candidate. He further asserted that lack of thought and reasoning power is the curse of the nation, (aside from rum drinking) and that the great masses of the land are led and controlled by a few brainy men and thinkers, who mark out certain paths and have the multitude follow blindly therein. The speaker declared that he had reasoned the matter out from deepest foundation to topmost round of turret, and was evidently impressed with the idea that he could give pointers in this line to the intellectual giants of the nation.

An Impossibility.

A practical illustration of the impossibility of two large bodies trying to pass in a narrow passage way occurred in one of the leading churches yesterday. Two married ladies who had become separated from their husbands and wishing to arrange matters so as to gain their respective seats made a vain and ludicrous effort to do so while standing in the pew. They blushing gave up the contest however, while the occupants of the surrounding pews were convulsed with silent laughter.

A Cold Morning.

This morning was the coldest of the season, and there are those who say that few such mornings can be found in Liverpool's history. The thermometer at 7 o'clock registered 17 degrees.

To be Tried Tonight.

The case of J. M. Mason against J. J. Allison involving money for work and labor will be tried by Squire Travis at city hall tonight at 7 o'clock.

SAWED OFF THE STABLE

Council and a Sheridan Avenue Man

CAN NOT AGREE ON A POINT

And the City Cuts a Piece of the Building Away Because Cooper Would Not Allow it Moved Off the Street—He Threatens to Sue.

Arthur Cooper lives on Sheridan avenue, and threatens to sue the city for damages because Commissioner Welsh, acting under orders from council, cut his stable in two.

Cooper owns property on the avenue, and has been objecting to the paving of the street. On Saturday a committee from council went to look at the improvement, and attempted to convince the man that they should move back a stable, one end of which stood on the street. All other owners of property consented to the increased width, and had agreed to move buildings where it was necessary. Cooper would have nothing to do with the idea, and when the councilmen called on him to look at the obstruction, he ordered them from the place, with the threat that he would have them arrested for trespass if they did not move on.

The councilmen, left but upon returning found Cooper on guard to look after what he chose to call his interests. Upon discovering that he would not coincide with their views the committee ordered Commissioner Welsh to cut enough off of the building to let the street pass through without obstruction, and went home. This enraged the owner and he promised to enter suit, but the commissioner did his duty. The required amount was cut away leaving the roof extending over the street and it remains that way, this afternoon.

Cooper is a teamster who does a great deal of hauling for the potteries and believes that he has been shamefully abused by council. The removal of the obstruction greatly improves the appearance of the street.

Looking For an Agent.

A lady who operates a Second street boarding house is looking for a man who spent several weeks at her place, and left last Saturday without passing through the required formality of paying his bill. He represented himself as being connected with a Chicago concern, and was canvassing for pictures. He went to Wellsville Saturday and neglecting to return, she wrote to the address of the concern in Chicago. She believes, however, that no such company exists, and she is out $10.

Got no Goods.

A man claiming to be in the crockery business in Chicago, ordered a bill amounting to $200 from Mountford's pottery the other day, and claimed to have a good business record. W. T. Tebbutt was given the case, and it was found that no such man as that was in business there, whereupon it was decided to place the case in the hands of the police. If captured an example will be made of the stranger, as efforts are constantly being made to victimize the potteries.

Into a Corner.

The corner into which West Virginia Democrats were driven before the election was shown yesterday when two theatrical men were discussing the matter at the Thompson House. One explained that his company had a date to play in a prominent opera house in Wheeling, but the Democrats, anxious to have a full house and knowing that this was impossible because of the other attraction, gave the manager a liberal bonus to cancel the date.

The Canadian Feeling.

L. J. McGhie is home from a trip through the agricultural regions of Canada where he went to investigate the prices of produce and the effect of the tariff. He learned that many articles produced on American farms can be shipped here for less money than our own farmers are selling them. The people there are violently opposed to Governor McKinley, while they have a kindly feeling for Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia.

At Fifth Street Rink.

Ladies Drill brigade at the rink on Thursday night, Nov. 15. Manley's band will make music. Admission but 10 cents. The military maneuvers of this corps of young ladies are well worth witnessing. Everybody and their friends invited.

Sent One Train Back.

There was a freight wreck at Summitville, but no one was injured. The inconvenience to the railroad was great, and the midnight train after reaching this city was sent around by way of Rochester. The early train from Cleveland could not get through yesterday morning, and was sent over the Fort Wayne from Alliance. This constitutes the foundation for several wild reports going about yesterday.

Judgment For Plaintiff.

The Smulbach Brewing company got judgment against Edward Schneider in the court of Squire Travis today for $175. The execution was placed in the hands of Constable Albright who will collect the bill or sell out the place.

The constable closed up the billiard hall this morning and after the required lapse of 10 days the goods therein will be sold according to law. Schneider, it is said, will bring suit for damages. Grosshans Bros., were attorneys for the Smulbach company at the hearing this morning.

Happy Over Waite's Downfall.

A personal letter from Frank H. Croxall says that Mr. Quay has withdrawn from the insurance partnership in Denver, and the genial Frank is now hustling among the Mexicans, Mormons and Indians, endeavoring to convince them that a life policy is the best armor against accident and death. The people are happy because that long-talked-of blood has congealed on the bloody bridge of Waiteism, and prospects for business are decidedly bright.

Died in New York.

Cyrus Napp, of Market street, went to Ogdensburg, N. Y., yesterday, having been summoned there by a telegram announcing the death of his mother, who passed away after an illness of but three hours. The lady was 96 years of age, and had always been vigorous until the attack of pneumonia which ended her life on Saturday.

Tore Out the Pipe.

Workmen at city hall are making fair headway on the improvements. Today an old pipe, used to supply water from a tank in the tower before the water works were built, was torn out of the north east corner of Chief Gill's office. This room is to be used by Clerk Hanley and both of the city safes will be placed there.

The Pavement Bank.

The attention of a NEWS REVIEW reporter was called today to a bad hole in the pavement at the northeast corner of Market and Fourth streets. The depression is at the point where the new telephone pole was placed, and the sidewalk was repaved later. It should be repaired, as it may cause an accident to some near-sighted or unwary pedestrian.

No Meeting.

Contrary to the statement of an unreliable sheet there will be no meeting of the board of health this evening. Health Officer King said today that it was probable that a special meeting would be called before the next regular meeting, although there was nothing more than routine business to look after.

Very Low Rates.

In order to reach those who desire to live at a small expenditure the ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance union have placed the price of room without fire at $2 per week, and with fire at $2.50, the young women to look after the rooms. The prices as given include boarding as well as lodging.

Sufficient Power.

By tonight the electric light company expects to have power enough to supply everybody and to light the city at every point where there is an electric lamp. This will be good news for East End people especially, as they have been compelled to go about in darkness from want of power at the works.

Called Away by Sickness.

Z. T. Irwin went to Sallineville this morning in response to a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of his sister in that place.

M. S. Dunlap took the morning train for Sallineville, where his mother, an aged lady, is so ill that her recovery is not expected.

Hurt His Back.

Will Buchagen has been unable to work for several days, owing to a sprained back. He was engaged in rather rough amusement with some of the boys at the decorating shop of the Sebring pottery, when one of his companions leaped on his back, and caused the injuries.

Wooley at Large.

Melvin Wooley, the man who is charged by Mrs. Jones with using vulgar language in her presence, has not yet been captured, and seems to be avoiding the police.

TWELVE MEN WORKING

The Irondale Plant Started Today.

THERE WAS NO VIOLENCE

The Old Employees are Still Out Waiting For Something to Turn Up—They Do Not Believe the Company Can Make It Go With the New Men.

The tin mill at Irondale was started this morning, and without the slightest show of violence.

A telegram asking the question brought that response early today, but without any particulars. Later another telegram announced that the number of men employed was 12, and they were new men. The old men are still out, and did not accept the reduction this morning. When the mill started today everything was peaceful and quiet, not one act of violence being witnessed by the persons in the vicinity of the plant. The men do not believe that the company can secure the required number of skilled workers to place the mill in anything like successful operation, and are simply waiting to see what will turn up. The work started this morning was the two bar mills in the tin plate mill, where the new men are employed. It was learned at the office that the management is not ready to start the other mills, but will have men there when the right time comes to give them employment.

Notes For Travelers.

John Patterson left for a trip this morning in the interest of the East Liverpool Pottery company.

Tom Smith went east this morning, the trip being made with the samples of Wallace & Chetwynd close to his side.

Mr. Clark, the California traveler of the Laughlin pottery, is in the city on business.

Mr. Copland, an angel of commerce, who sells for the Sebring company in the West, left for a trip this morning after a short stay in this city.

Broke Her Arm.

Mrs. John Bagley, an aged lady of West Market street, had a bad fall this morning and as a result carries one arm in a sling. She had gone to the well just outside the house to draw some water when she slipped on the ice, and her left arm was broken and the wrist dislocated. Doctor Gardner reduced the fracture.

A Newspaper Change.

James E. Maule, for over two years the efficient business manager of the Salem News, severed his connection with the paper on Saturday. Mr. Louis H. Brush, who gained experience with the Alliance Review and the Ohio Sun, will fill the position.

Richie Went Home.

Boh Richie, who came here from Sewickley, and feared three men were after him on Friday, was released from jail late Saturday evening, and went home feeling better for the confinement. He left the gun which he brought from Sewickley.

Pilgrim Got a Ducking.

Will Pilgrim, the genial wharfmaster, had an accident on Saturday with no more serious result than a ducking. He fell into the river from a barge, and after considerable excitement succeeded in getting out, a wet and shivering wharfmaster.

Liverpool in Chicago.

A new music store will soon be opened in Chicago, and the necessary capital will be furnished by East Liverpool men. J. E. Way, formerly a shoe merchant of this city, but now in the porcelain business will be manager.

Twelve Odd Fellows arrived today from Hanover to take part in the ceremonies tonight, and 10 are expected from Alliance this evening.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, NOV. 12

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

THOMAS B. REED, of Maine, is the man to sit in the speaker's chair after the first few days of next March.

THE NEWS REVIEW believes that William McKinley has earned the right to represent the Republican party in the next campaign as its candidate.

The general impression prevails in this city that the Democrats will have a hard time gathering the shattered remnants of the party organization for the battle next spring.

WHO WILL BE GOVERNOR?

The next great political event in Ohio will be the selection of a governor, and if the straws are flying right there will be more than one ambitious Republican battling for the place of honor. General J. Warren Keiffer, the parliamentarian, is said to have his eye upon the state house, and General Asa Jones, the Youngstown attorney, would not object if the plum dropped into his hand. General Asa Bushnell is another aspirant whose claims will be received, and a half dozen other prominent members of the party would not object. Of course, Columbiana county will not be called upon to present a candidate, although the people might search longer and find worse timber than groves in the hills and dales of this fertile land. Who knows but what there is a candidate within 20 miles of the county seat?

PROSPECTS.

There is little doubt that the result of the election will have a bearing upon East Liverpool, a bearing that will cause an increase in the crockery trade, and consequent benefit to every family in the city. The only question at issue is the time when this wave of good fortune will be felt. Will it be delayed until after the presidential election, or will the recent Republican victory serve as a stimulus to brighten the prospect, and bring buyers in such abundance as to keep every pottery in active operation? Should the Republican house of representatives succeed in obtaining a sufficient number of votes in the senate to modify the most injurious sections of the German compromise, crockery will come in for its share of the good feeling, and the Pittsburgh retailers who advertise English cups and saucers for less than they can purchase domestic ware will be compelled to purchase in Liverpool. On the other hand, there is more than a possibility that the Democrats in congress will stand by what they have already done, and refuse to retreat an inch. With these men really controlling business through their refusal to consider an advance in tariff duties, the American potter must plod along as best he can, meeting the importers at every turn, and disposing of his ware where it is possible. At present there is nothing to do but admit of the prosperity of the present, and hope earnestly for something better in the future.

Clay to Marry Today.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 12.—News received from Richmond, Ky., says that General Cassius M. Clay, aged 84 years, postponed his marriage Saturday with his 15-year-old protegee, Miss Dora Richardson until today. Judge Chennault, on whom he relied to perform the ceremony refused, and Squire Milton will unite them in marriage today. General Clay's son, Brutus, and daughter, Mary B., object to the match, but the old gentleman says he will marry the girl anyhow.

MR. K. D.'s Funeral.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—The funeral of the late Michael J. Kelly, the widely known baseball player, was held from St. James church at 1 o'clock Sunday, the Rev. Father Healy officiating. The services were brief, after which the body was interred with the burial services of the Elks at Mount Hope cemetery. Many relatives of the deceased were present at the church. Mrs. Kelly, though heavily veiled, showed manifest signs of deep grief.

HOW THE POPS. STAND

Senator Stewart Claims Eight in the Senate.

NOT LIKELY TO AFFILIATE

With Either of the Old Parties—Will Have More Power—Acting Independently—Peffer Says the Party Gained in Votes What It Lost in Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Senator Peffer has arrived from Kansas. Discussing the result of the election, he said the Populists had no reason to feel discouraged.

"What we have lost in congressmen," he said, "we have more than made up in votes. The reports generally published would lead people to suppose that we had suffered a material loss in all respects in Kansas. Such is not the case. In 1890 we had about 105,000 votes in that state; in 1892 about 113,000, and in the late election from 120,000 to 125,000, in the face of the fact that about 20,000 of our voters had left the state on account of the drought. We failed in the election of officers because we were not paired with the Democrats, but we have every reason to feel encouraged for the future. In the country at large I feel confident that when the returns are footed up they will show our total vote to be little less than 2,000,000, which is about twice the Populist vote of two years ago."

Asked if he believed Governor Tillman would co-operate with the Populists if he should be elected to the senate, Mr. Peffer replied that he could not say, as Governor Tillman had never outlined his intentions in that respect. He called attention to the fact that Mr. Irby, who supposedly shares the political views of Governor Tillman, had remained in the Democratic ranks, "Still," he added, "the time must soon come when all Democrats, believing as Tillman and Irby do, must ally themselves openly with the Populist party. The eastern Democrats are to all intents and purposes Republicans, and Democrats of the Tillman-Irby stripe cannot long remain in the same party organization with them."

The senator declined to discuss the question of the probable organization of the senate after the 4th of March by the Republicans with the aid of such Populists as, like himself, had affiliated with the Republican party before they became Populists, further than to say that the time was too far distant to speculate upon, and in a general way to remark that if the time should come when the Populists should hold the balance of power in the senate, he had no doubt "they would exercise that power continuously and wisely."

Senator Stewart of Nevada was less guarded than Senator Peffer in speaking of the assumption that certain of the Populist senators would aid the Republicans in the organization of the senate. He says emphatically that so far as he is concerned he will enter into coalition with neither of the old parties to secure the organization. "I don't care," he said, "which of the gold parties controls the machinery of the senate. There is no advantage to us to be joined by a combination with either the Republicans or the Cleveland Democrats. We do not care for the few paltry offices there are to be bestowed, and could not afford to sacrifice our independence as a party for them. So far as I am personally concerned, I do not care whether they put me on any committee or what they do with me as long as I am entitled to my seat in the senate and can get into the chamber. In fact," he added, growing emphatic, "I can raise more money when entirely free from such obligations than when bound by them."

The senator says that he thinks the Populists will be able to exercise a more potent influence by keeping entire aloof from and entering into entangling alliances with either of the old parties, and it is his opinion that this is the policy which will be pursued by the third party in the senate, and that he will advise that this policy be pursued. He thinks there is no doubt that when the test comes Senator Jones will be found acting in full harmony with the Populist senators, and that if Governor Tillman should be chosen to succeed Senator Butler, he will also be found in the Populist column, as will also the two senators to be chosen from North Carolina. This would give the Populists eight senators against 42 Republicans and 38 Democrats after the 4th of March.

"The only ground," he said in conclusion, "on which I should be willing to unite with the Republicans would be on a platform pledging that party to a free silver policy. I do not want any halfway measure, such as the coinage of the American product, as I should know that whatever was promised would be nothing but a trap. I do not propose to be caught with anything less than a compliance with our complete demands."

Wilson Explains the Defeat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Hon. Wm. L. Wilson has written a letter to a local paper on the recent defeat, in which he says that the hard times had mostly to do with the result and said he: "Hard times is an enemy before which no political party has ever been able to make a successful stand in America." He says it was not a blow at tariff reform, but a rebuff to those who delayed the tariff bill in the senate.

Elkins and Goff Lead.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 12.—Hon. William E. Chilton, secretary of state and chairman of the Democratic state committee states that the Republicans will have a majority on joint ballot in the next legislature of 38. There are already 10 candidates for United States senator in the field and the list is being swelled every day. Judge Nathan Goff and Hon. Stephen B. Elkins are the most prominent.

Postoffice Department Revenues.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The revenue for the postoffice department for the year ending June 30, 1894, shows a falling off, while the expenditures have increased. The deficiency for the fiscal year of 1893 was $5,066,763, while the deficiency for 1894 is $9,243,935. The decrease of receipts was $816,454, and the increase of expenditures $3,250,309. The total expenditures for 1894 are $84,234,414, and receipts $75,080,479. The department suffered losses amounting to $9,382 by outstanding bad debts and compromises with debtors. The differences will be made up by appropriations.

Two Big Contracts in Japan.

TOKYO, Wash., Nov. 12.—William G. Norris, who went to Japan a year ago to represent a syndicate of Chicago merchants, has secured two of the largest contracts ever awarded American firms. One goes to Armour & Co. and is for canned corn beef to be supplied the Japanese army. The other is a $370,000 contract for cast iron pipe to be used in extending the Tokyo water works. The pipe will be made in American firms having met the competition of English, French and Belgian bidders.

Hundreds Had a Narrow Escape.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Hundreds of men, women and children who were passengers on the special train on the Chicago and Northern Pacific road en route for Waldheim cemetery Sunday afternoon experienced a very narrow escape from serious injury and probable death by the derailing of the engine and one coach. Five persons were slightly injured. The train, consisting of ten coaches, was crowded with people en route to Waldheim cemetery to attend the annual commemorative exercises over the graves of the anarchists.

The Championship Belt Stolen.

DAVENPORT, Ia., Nov. 12.—The World's Championship belt, owned by James J. Corbett and on exhibition at Sheriff & Co.'s store as an advertising card for his show, now playing here, has been stolen. It is valued at $15,000.

China Expected to Agree Readily—Has Already Notified the United States of a Willingness to Acknowledge Korea's Independence and Pay Japan a War Indemnity—Japan Likely to Ask $100,000,000 as a Return For Her Expenditures in the War—The Chinese Abandon Port Arthur, Indicating an Intention to Surrender—Chaos Reigns.

TOKYO, Japan, Nov. 12.—United States Minister Dun has communicated to the ministry the substance of an important cypher cable proposition received from Secretary Gresham at Washington. It suggests that if Japan will join China in requesting the president of the United States to act as mediator in settling the war, he will exercise his good offices in that capacity. A similar proposition has been sent to China. The cable was received by Minister Dun on Friday and was presented to a special meeting of the ministry. An answer has not yet been sent.

The proposition presents a grave question to the ministry. They are urged on one hand by the popular sentiment to continue the war and crush China. On the other hand European powers are threatening to intervene. As between these conflicting influences the ministry find great difficulty in reaching a decision on the American proposition, but the prospect is that it will be accepted. It is learned that four days ago France made a proposition to the United States to intervene.

OUR PROPOSITION.

The Government Offers to Mediate, Not Arbitrate the Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The cable from Tokyo explains the exact terms on which the United States is proposing to act as peacemaker between China and Japan. It establishes also that the United States has not offered herself as arbitrator, but has suggested that if both China and Japan join in requesting her services as mediator they will be given.

It is the belief here that China will readily accept the mediation of the United States and that Japan will do so after she is assured of the indemnity China will yield. China has already gone so far as to notify this government that it will join Japan in recognizing the complete independence of Korea, which would result in the Japanese evacuation of Korea and thus a re-establishment of the former reigning powers. China has also made known to this government that it was willing to pay a cash indemnity to Japan. It has not stated how much the indemnity will be and this promises to be a serious problem.

Japan does not intend to be robbed of the fruits of her victory by an indefinite arbitration. Therefore she in effect asks: "What do you propose doing, and how much will you give. If you will offer enough, then we will accept the United States as the intermediary to execute the agreement. But we will not go into any blind arrangement by which a third party will determine the whole basis of peace."

Being a victor, Japan does not intend to go in on even terms with the vanquished.

Mr. Gresham's cable inquiries to China, therefore, contemplate: First, China's acceptance of the United States as mediator. Second, a statement of China's exact offer to Japan of the terms and amount of cash indemnity she will pay. As to the amount of cash it is not likely that Japan will accept the mediation unless $100,000,000 is offered. This will about represent what Japan has actually spent on the war. She does not ask for exemplary or punitive damages, as the term is used in law, but merely the damages which will reimburse her outlay. When France paid Germany an indemnity for the Franco-German war it represented not only what Germany had spent, but exemplary or punishment damages as well. Japan does not expect this, but she will insist on actual damages. This is roughly figured as follows:

Japan had a reserve fund of $25,000,000 on hand when the war began. This has been spent. Then she negotiated a war loan of 50,000,000 yen, yen being about equivalent to our dollar. This makes $75,000,000 actually used in the war. Besides this Japanese citizens have contributed large sums. The total outlay, including obligations incurred, is estimated at about $100,000,000. The extra session of the Japanese diet resulted in a law authorizing a war expenditure up to $150,000,000, but this limit has not been reached.

The cable disclosure from Tokyo that France made a proposition to the United States four days ago adds a new feature to the question here. It has been known that European powers were urging forcible intervention and this has been largely instrumental in inducing the United States to suggest mediation without force. It is understood that the French proposition has been rejected.

The situation therefore presents an interesting game of international diplomacy. On one hand the great powers of Europe are threatening to forcibly come between them as a peacemaker. As between the two propositions, it is not doubted that the two conflicting powers will look to the United States.

PORT ARTHUR ABANDONED.

The Chinese Indicate an Intention to Surrender to the Japs.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A dispatch from Tokyo states that the Japanese have invested Port Arthur and that the outermost forts on the land side have been captured.

A dispatch from Shanghai says it is reported there that the emperor is suffering with a fever and is confined to his bed.

A PRISONER IN HOLLAND.

An American Arrested on a Flimsy Charge of Murder and Robbery.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—A letter from Major Gordon W. Lillie, otherwise known as "Pawnee Bill," dated Nijmegen, Holland, received here gives an interesting account of the imprisonment of an Illinois man, in that place, on the grave charge of murder and robbery. The story as told by Major Lillie is to the effect that an old lady, living near the place named, was murdered and robbed of a large sum of money. Her servant who saw the murderers said that the men were Americans.

On the strength of this statement the Holland authorities caused the arrest of George Connors of Pullman, Ill., who was seen with a sum of money about the time of the murder. He was formerly in the employ of the "Wild West" show in the capacity of hostler and had been discharged and paid off but a day or two before his arrest. The evidence against him, according to Major Lillie, is of the flimsiest character, but he cannot be released, except upon the order of the public prosecutor, which his friends are making every effort to secure.

LYING IN STATE.

Thousands Viewing the Dead Czar's Body in Moscow.

MOSCOW, Nov. 12.—The body of the dead czar, on its way to St. Petersburg, now temporarily lies in state in the Cathedral of St. Michael in this city. It is being viewed by many thousands. The most touching scenes are being witnessed. The people prostrate themselves reverently before the coffin at the same time offering brief prayers for the repose of the soul of Alexander III.

The funeral train with Czar Nicholas, the czar's wife, Alexandra, and their children, the grand dukes and grand duchesses, the Prince and Princess of Wales, high officials and officers arrived at 10:30 Sunday morning. The body was conveyed to the cathedral with great pomp. The streets were fairly black with people.

TO TEST ELECTROCUTION.
Gov. Flower Will Allow an Attempt to Revive a Victim.

ALBANY, Nov. 12.—Governor Flower is willing to allow experts to make a test to ascertain whether a man killed in the electrical chair can be resuscitated. Ever since the adoption of the electrical execution act by the state, the Westinghouse people, whose dynamoes are used, have declared that electricity was not cause of death, but that death was assured by the holding of an autopsy directly after the body had been taken from the electrical chair. No less an authority than Nicola Testa, the famous electrician, contended that he could bring back to life a man killed in an electrical chair, provided the attempt was made immediately after execution. Mr. George Westinghouse has always asserted that electrical death was a sham and that a New York commission, headed by Elbridge T. Gerry, had added the autopsy clause to the law so as to make it certain that the man was dead. Within the last few weeks the agitation of the subject has again become prominent and an appeal is to be made to the governor to allow the next man condemned to be used as a subject to be experimented on. The governor says he will grant permission to do this. The attempt if made will undoubtedly create great excitement and intense interest in the scientific world. It will also arouse curiosity among laymen because if successful it will bring to life a new man who cannot be executed, having once suffered the penalty of death. It will also prove that the state executioners have been the surgeons who have held the autopsy rather than the state electrician.

They Will Swear In a Governor and Elect a U. S. Senator.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 12.—The Kolbites forces will meet in Montgomery today, this being one day before the assembling of the general assembly, in response to a call. The interpretation of the call is that it is to decide upon action to be taken as to setting up a dual state government. It is given out that they will set up a general assembly, go through the act of declaring Kolb governor, elect a United States senator, and adjourn. The following is the call: "A state convention of the Jeffersonian and People's party is hereby called to meet in Montgomery on Nov. 12, 1894. The counties are entitled to the same number of delegates that they had in the state convention of February last. The purpose of the convention is to consider what action should be taken in regard to the monstrous election frauds that were perpetrated in the last August election and for purposes."

London's Latest Tragedy.
All London has taken much interest in last week's tragedy at the zoo. A boa constrictor 9 feet long inadvertently swallowed its mate, 8 feet long. A pigeon had been given to each snake. The larger boa swallowed his first and then seized the bird which was in the jaws of its mate. As the teeth of both reptiles were securely fixed in the pigeon there was nothing for it but that one should swallow the other, and the smaller one suffered. The appearance of the survivor is sufficient proof of his guilt. He is swollen to nearly three times his normal girth. The attendant has detected in his eye a sinister, conscience stricken expression.—London Correspondent.
